I want to wish you and your entire family the happiest and most joyful of Holidays!

As a reminder, the police will be out in full force during the holiday season. To be charged and potentially convicted of DUI (driving under the influence), the blood alcohol content rate is now down to .08.

Additionally, if you are observed driving erratically, even with a blood alcohol content less than .08, you can still be charged with driving under the influence and potentially convicted.

Depending upon gender, body chemistry, weight, food and fluid intake and the alcohol content of the beverage, a person can have a blood alcohol content of .08 or higher with as few as 2 alcoholic drinks.

If you or anyone you care about will be drinking alcohol during the holidays, please have a designated driver or taxi available before the party or the drinking begins. There are few things worse than causing harm to others or yourself as a result of drinking and driving.

Go to parties! Celebrate life fully and enjoy the spirit of this season, but celebrate in true joy and safety!!!

Sincerely,

Barry L. Bellovin
